With Gratitude and Honor

Gracious God, on this Memorial Day weekend, we remember and give thanks for those who have given their lives in the service of our country. When the need was greatest, they stepped forward and did their duty to defend the freedoms that we enjoy, and to win the same for others.

O God, you yourself have taught us that no love is greater than that which gives itself for another. These honored dead gave the most precious gift they had, life itself, for loved ones and neighbors, for comrades and country – and for us.

Help us to honor their memory by caring for the family members they have left behind, by ensuring that their wounded comrades are properly cared for, by being watchful caretakers of the freedoms for which they gave their lives, and by demanding that no other young men and women follow them to a soldier's Grave unless the reason is worthy and the cause is just.

Holy One, help us to remember that freedom is not free.

There are times when its cost is, indeed, dear. Never let us forget those who paid so terrible a price to ensure that freedom would be our legacy.

Though their names may fade with the passing of generations, may we never forget what they have done.

Help us to be worthy of their sacrifice,

O God, help us to be worthy.

- J. Veltri, S.J.

The Pastoral Services Center will be closed on Monday, May 27th for the Memorial Day Holiday. Regularly-scheduled services with Mass at 6:00 AM and Reconciliation at 6:30 AM will be celebrated. Office (PSC) will reopen on Tuesday at 8:00 AM.

Our Challenge

The Hebrews experienced God as one. He had transformed their people through mighty works and had delivered them from their suffering. Even though the concept of the Trinity is from the New Testament, the Hebrews experienced the one God in many different manifestations for a variety of purposes. In our second reading on this Trinity Sunday, concerning the relationship with God, St. Paul stresses for his readers the difference between a slave and a son. We are related to God as his adopted children. We should not live in fear of God as a slave fears his master. Our relationship to God should be grounded in his loving, fatherly love and care. As followers of Christ, we are commissioned to spread our faith to every land and every person. Our faith is not just a matter of following orders. It is relational. We are related to God through Jesus Christ, and we are related to one another in Christ. This faith is sealed by baptism, which is our initiation into the family of believers, in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. There is a deep mystery at the heart of Christian faith. This is the mysterious unity of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. If we attempt to articulate our thoughts about the Trinity, we can only use inadequate human concepts which fall short of embracing the depth of God. We truly want to understand the nature of God. More important than knowing about God, however, is having a relationship with God. It is this on-going relationship that will satisfy our souls. One of the most tragic realities within the world of the Christian faith is the ongoing presence of conflict. Ill-spirited theological disputes, ecclesiastical dissension, political partisanship, and interpersonal strife reveal the many ways in which the Body of Christ is in need of healing. The revelation of God as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit expresses a complex unity. There is a kind of fellowship within the Godhead, even though God is one. All that the Trinity means we will never be able to express. The best opportunity for understanding such a mystery is in the community of the faithful. In the providence of God there are no solo Christians. We need one another, not only to enrich our lives through fellowship, but to understand better the deep mysteries of God. Here in the family of God we find fulfillment both in relation to God and to one another.

Have a good week!

Love and prayers,
Father Randy
